Coronavirus has canceled, postponed or changed a lot of annual traditions, including the Yamhill Carlton High School spring college night for high school juniors and their families.

Many high schools host these events each year so students can hear from the experts. High school staff give an overview of the college search process, and college staff share their insights about applications, scholarships, and more.

This year, admissions and financial aid staff from colleges around the state are bringing these sessions to you – direct from their home offices.

It might even be better than attending one in person! You can “attend” our Virtual College Night any time, day or night, while wearing your pajamas. And you don’t have to choose just 2-3 sessions – you can watch them all.

If you have questions about the things you hear and learn during your virtual college night, be sure to contact Janet Herring-Sherman, coordinator for the ASPIRE College and Career Readiness Program at YCHS. Herring-shermanj@ycschools.org or 503-883-3686.
